Allowable Subject Matter

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
upon close review of the claims, the prior art, and applicant's remarks in the Amendment filed on 8-16-2006 it appears that the allowance of claims 17-20, 22, 23, 24-27, 29, 30, and 31 are appropriate.

The intelligent telephone network of U.S. Patent No. 6,122,357 by Farris et al, hereinafter Farris, is functionally equivalent to the claimed method, system, and computer program product for specifying telephone services for a particular callee comprising detecting a call receipt condition from a destination device at a trusted telephone network; brokering a connection between said destination device and an external server enabled to perform a callee identity authentication service, and responsive to receiving, from said external server, an authenticated callee identity of a callee utilizing said destination device, specifying services available to said callee according to said authenticated callee identity (col. 10, lines 1-10; col. 11, lines 32-54; col. 35, lines 36-40; col. 35, lines 48-56; col. 38, lines 6-8; col. 43, line 31 – col. 44, line 31), Farris fails to disclose transmitting a request for said callee identity authentication service via a signal gateway to a network for accessing said external server, responsive to receiving access to said callee identity authentication service, transferring a call to said external server, transferring a prompt for a voice utterance, received from said external server via a media gateway, to said destination device, transferring a voice utterance by said callee through said media gateway to said network for accessing said external server, and receiving said authenticated callee identity via said signal gateway at said trusted telephone network.
